by many persons in that exhibitors will not be charged for space. Some applicants desire to have the privilege of seiling their goods in the Exhibition building, but no decision can be given on the point, as the Commission have not yet decision while the permitted. At most of the previous world's fairs the rule has been to allow only the sale of little knicknacks, Japanese wares, &c.; but whether this idea is to be followed in Philadelphia remains yet to be determined.

with the space allotted to foreign countries. This distinction is one of importance to importers of this city, who labor under the erroneous impression that they must, like native manufacturers apply to the Commission in Philadelphia for space to exhibit imported goods. Any importer (or other person) acting as agent for a foreign firm that desire to exhibit must have his appointment in that capacity confirmed by the commissioners of the quarty in which the firm reside. In the case monitoned above the applicant was told that he must apply to the Ewiss Commissioners, as 6wim lace curtains would, of course, come under the Swiss Department.

Some of the other rules which do not seem to be generally understood may here be alluded to. The Commission will fureish only a limited quantity of steam and water power to exhibitors, which is to be determined simultaneously with the silotments of space, and any power in excess will have to be paid for. This rule is important to exhibitors of sitchinery. The transportation, receiving, unpacking and armanging of the products for exhibitors. No goods of the products for exhibitors, he goods of the products for exhibitors, he goods of exhibitors of patent medicines, nostrums and empirical preparations, the seders of which probably claim that they deserve neither of those spittets, while a good many people probably think that they meets both. However, it makes little difference whether they are claimed to benefit or injure the present generation, as the role to include this class of articles has been definitely adopted and will certainly not be lepsaled, the wrath of the patent medicines men of city and country bowlishstanding.

At the last Vienna and Paris exhibitions one of the most important and generally admired departments was that of Japan. The Japanese government is making preparations to ascurable will do all in his power to effect a handsome and full representation of Japanese products, and the major distinguished Japanese who received their education in this country will, it is thought, generally second his efforts in that direction. The South American countries, Brazil, &c., will probably be more fully represented than they ever have been at any international exhibition held in Europe, and the Mexican department will, no doubl, be unassally full and interessing. Sweden and Norway always excel in their preparations for international exhibitions, and this is also tue case now. The Swedish government has aready appropriated a considerable sum to defray the expenses of the challenger will have a special pavilion onusine the building similar to that at Vienna. Riskia's non-acceptance is generally attributed

A COLORED MAN BITTEN BY A DOG LAST SUM-

MER DIES FROM THE EFFECT THEREOF. has again been brought to that remarkable and most terrible of maladies, hydrophobia, by a fatal case which occurred in that city yesterday. The most terrible of maladies, hydrophobia, by a fatal case which occurred in that city yesterday. The victim was a negro named William Ellice, thirty-five years of age, a man of steady and regular habits. Ellice was a coachman and lived with his wife and jamily at No. 133 Gold street. Last summer he was bitten by a coach dog belonging to his employer, the animal putting its teeth through the fleshy part of the index finger of the left hand. But little attention was paid to the wound at the time as it very soon healed. The dog had exhibited some symptoms of madness, it seems, prior to biting Ellice, and the flact coming to the knowledge of a policeman he shot the brute, very much to the regret of the coachman. The circumstance was forgotten in time, Ellice enjoying excellent health, appearently, and continuing to perform his labors. On Wednesday last, while walking along Tillary street, the fell cisease which had been so long latent in the blood manifested itself in a sudden and fearful manner. He was prostrated by a sharp spasm and fell heavily on the sidewalk. He was carried to a drug store, and there received stimulants which had the effect of restoring him to consciousness. As soon as he was able to walk he repaired to his home without assistance. He had not been long in the house when he experienced a pain in the fluger that had been bitten, and the member began to swell. The affection next extended to the arm and then to the throat, until the whole body was affected and violent contortions and agony, physical and mental, ensued. Ellice, among other vagaries of the mind, conceived the idea that some one was endeavoring to murder his wite and children. At this stage Mrs. Ellice summoned a physician, pr. Veeder, of No. 832 Gold street. That gentleman, on entering the sice room, and belove he had learned the incidents cited above, pronounced the patient to be suffering from hydrophobis. The Doctor prescribed optime and children. At this stage Mrs. Ellice summoned a physician, pr. Veeder, of No. 832 Gold street. T FIRE UNDERWRITERS' TROUBLE.

their risks from those companies who patronise their risks from those companies who jeopardize their capital and endanger their softency by taking risks at promiums below the established rates. This is a succeed that interests every man and woman who takes out an insurance policy, and the public are interested in knowing who the committee to whom these charges have been referred are, Mr. Henshaw's opinion to the contrary notwithstanding.

WHAT IT IS AND WHERE IT WAS COMMERCED. Yesterday afternoon, at No. 23 Park row, there was a numerous attendance of the Committee of the Board of Trade on Technical Education. The following gentlemen were present:—Messra. A. J. Bloor, F. J. Emmerica, Dr. Stuart Gwynn, Charles H. Haswell, C. E.; George Hathorne, A. Hudson Holty. A. Jones, Wilsiam B. Gimstend, Charles Rattig, M. M. White 'and W. Lusk Webster. G. W. C. Clarks, Secretary of the Board of Trade, acted in the same capacity at this meeting. After the minutes of last meeting were read Hon. Abram S. Hewitt was elected permanent President of the Committee on Technical Education, and Mr. Lederle, Vice Chairman. The Secretary stated that His Honor Mayor Wickham did not wish to act as an ex-official member of the committee, but as an active memoer, as he took a warm interest in the whole subject. A sub-committee was appointed to arrange for a

at an appropriate early day; a sub-committee of seven to confer with the educational departments of the city and State, and the following gentlemen were named:—Hon. A. S. Hewitt, Measrs, Leder.e, William Steinway, Bloor, C. H. Haswell, Charles Rattig and R. P. Rockwell.

The meeting then adjourned after agreeing to meet at the same place upon the second and fourth lucadays of each month, at three P. M., the next meeting for convenience, however, will take place next Tuesday.

may not be improper here, as it is almost the birth in America of technical education, which is considered in Europe as of the very greatest importance. The insuguration of international exhibitions—the initial one of which took place in London in 1851, under the auspices of the Society of Arts, of which the late Primee Consort was President—marked a new era in British industry. It was for the first time discovered then that technical education, which had prevailed upon the Continent—especially in France and Germany—had enabled the artisans of those countries to achieve a remarkable excellence in manufactures over the English; and even when the Paris Exfosition of 1865 took place a marvellous progress had taken place in continental manufactures within the lour years, and Great Britain had to look to her empire in the held of trade. About this time Mr. Sambels, a famous agricultural implement manufacturer and a member of Parliament, asked for a special committee of the House of Commons to investigate the subject of technical education, and a royal commission was sent from England, under the direction of a central body appointed by the Crown, with headquarters at No. 8, Kensington Gardens, London. The benefits account from the schools are well known.

PROFESSOR SMITH, OF LEEDS, has been called by Massachusetts to superintend art instruction in her schools, and it is said he will give the results attained in two years in that State shortly to the Committee of the Board of Trade on Technical Education. A letter was read yesterday from Hon. A. S. Howitt at the above meeting, in which it was stated that $50,000 per annum has been spent in Cooper Institute on such a system of education, and adding that the number—2 too—now receiving its benefits could be doubled if the Board of Trustees had $25,000 more per annum to expend.
